OUR TEAM

Empowering Local Leadership: Our conferences aims to empower mayors, elected officials, and employees (not just limited to towns, we invite townships, fire departments, school districts to participate) by demonstrating that they can make a significant difference in their hometowns. It will inspire confidence and a sense of positive responsibility among attendees. In summary, the one-day conference addresses a critical gap in training for America's smaller communities, offering tailored content, practical training, and access to relevant experts. It is a cost-effective opportunity to empower local leadership and contribute to the growth and sustainability of small communities, the heart and soul of America.

SpeakersPlus.org is made up of 5 individuals who provide training and speaking as a profession. Speakers Plus Leadership Conferences are their way of giving back to what is important. A group decision was made to create this conference series and reduce their personal speakers /training fees to a manageable scale to benefit the others.
